General Information

I am committed to providing high quality services to my clients and providing them with all of the information necessary to be informed regarding the treatment process. As a client, you are entitled to receive information from me about the methods of therapy, the techniques used, the duration of your therapy (if known), and the fee structure.

I accept in my private practice only clients whom I believe have the capacity to resolve their own problems with my assistance. Some clients need only a few counseling sessions to achieve their goals, whereas others may require months or even years of counseling. As a client, you are in complete control and may seek a second opinion from another therapist, and/or end our counseling relationship at any time. I, too, have the right to withdraw from your treatment if a conflict arises. In that eventuality, you will be informed and given appropriate referrals.

Professional Relationship

Although our session may be very intimate psychologically, it is important for you to realize that we have a professional relationship rather than a personal one. Our contact will be limited to the paid sessions you have with me. Please do not invite me to social gatherings, offer gifts, or ask me to relate to you in any way other than in the professional context of our counseling sessions. This is a requirement of the ethical guidelines for Licensed Professional Counselors and is in your best interest. You will be best served if our relationship stays professional, and if our sessions concentrate exclusively on your concerns. You will learn a great deal about me as we work together during our counseling experience. However, it is important for you to remember that you are experiencing us only in our professional role. Please note that it is impossible to guarantee any specific results regarding your counseling goals, but together, we will work to achieve the best possible results for you.

Colorado law requires me to inform you that in our professional relationship physical intimacy is never appropriate and should be reported to the board that licenses, registers, or certifies the licensee, registrant or certificate holder. If you have a grievance against any professional, the specific agency to notify is The Board of Licensed Professional Counselors Examiners, which can be reached at 1560 Broadway, Suite 1350, Denver, Colorado 80202, (303) 894-7800.

If at any time for any reason you are dissatisfied with services, please let me know. If I am not able to resolve your concerns, you may report your complaints to the appropriate authorities.

Confidentiality & Records

Information provided by you, the client, and from me the therapist is legally confidential, and I cannot be forced to disclose the information without your, the client's, consent. Information disclosed to me is privileged communication and cannot be disclosed in any court of competent jurisdiction in the State of Colorado without the consent of the person to whom the testimony sought relates. There are exceptions to the general rule of legal confidentiality, which are listed in the Colorado statues (C.R.S. 12-245-220) and Federal law. However, please be aware that provisions concerning disclosure of confidential communications shall not apply to any delinquency or criminal proceedings, except as provided in section 13-90-107 C.R.S. If a legal exception arises during therapy, if feasible, you will be informed accordingly. The Mental Health Practice Act (CRS 12-43-101, et seq.) is available at: <http://www.dora.state.co.us/mental-health/Statute.pdf>.

Exceptions to confidentiality:

1. Any evidence or disclosure by the client of perpetrating child or elderly abuse (past or present, physical or sexual abuse) must be reported to Legal Authorities.
2. Any evidence or disclosure by the client of downloading child pornography (past or present) must be reported to Legal Authorities.
3. Any evidence or disclosure by the client of any suspected threat to national security to federal officials.
4. If an individual intends to take harmful, dangerous or criminal actions against another human being or against him/herself, it is my duty to report such action or intent to medical and legal authorities. In the unlikely event, it is my clinical judgment that you are a danger to yourself or someone else, by signing the consent, you authorize me to contact either the persons listed as your emergency contacts, or someone else to provide assistance through this crisis situation. This would include, at my discretion, contacting an intended victim. By law, your consent is not necessary.
5. Sexual improprieties by a former therapist are a criminal offense and must be reported.
6. Certain court orders/actions, such as custody cases, malpractice actions, etc., may legally require disclosure of certain material covered in our sessions.
7. Collection of fees may require disclosure that you have been in a counseling process.
8. Consultation and Supervision with other professionals to aid in your treatment process.
9. Insurance companies: If you desire to file insurance on your own, you must know that I usually will be required to document your diagnosis and treatment. This may include personal information that you would not want employers to know. I cannot guarantee your confidentiality or that this will not have adverse effects on you personally.

Records of your sessions, communications with and other documentation regarding your relationship with your treating provider may not be maintained after seven years pursuant to section 12-245-226(1)(a)(II)(A).

Fees, Cancellations and Insurance

FEES: The fee for a 45-50-minute therapy session is $95.00. Group fees are $20.00 per session. You will be given additional information if you are participating in a group. By consenting to treatment with Ray Klein you acknowledge that you are responsible for the cost of the provided services (to you or to your minor child) at the time the service is rendered. Payment is expected at the beginning of each counseling session. Credit cards are an acceptable payment method and are available for your convenience. If you select this method of payment, your credit card will be charged 24 hours prior to your session.

CANCELLATIONS: Notification of cancellation of appointments scheduled but not attended must be made 24 business hours (Monday-Friday) before the appointment time. Cancellation or a request to reschedule an appointment for Monday must be made on the prior Friday. If you miss an appointment without notification, you will be charged on the credit or debit card you provide on the intake form or card number given during your initial appointment.

INSURANCE: Some insurance companies may cover part of your fees. You will need to determine the reimbursement policies of your insurance company. I do not file insurance claims. If you desire to file for insurance reimbursement, a statement will be provided to you for all sessions that are paid in full. It is important to remember that if you choose to utilize your insurance, the issues of confidentiality explained above will need to be considered.

Legal

In the unlikely event of time spent on legal correspondence, record requests or time away from the office due to court appearances resulting from legal issues, additional hourly fees will be assessed. My fee is $400.00 per hour. If travel is required, the fee begins from the time I leave my office until I return to my office. If you are involved in a divorce or custody litigation, you need to understand that my role as a therapist is not to make recommendations for the court concerning custody, parenting issues or to testify in court, concerning opinions on issues involved in the litigation. By signing this disclosure statement, you agree not to call me as a witness in any such litigation or subpoena for summons or records. Experience has shown that testimony by therapists in domestic cases causes damage to the clinical relationship between a therapist and client. Only court-appointed experts, investigators or evaluators can make recommendations to the court on disputed issues concerning parental responsibilities and parenting plans.

I understand in marriage counseling sessions, a 3 or 5-Day Intensive, the marriage is the client. All individual times are collateral sessions intended to facilitate the understanding of the marriage. Therefore no insurance can be billed for individual therapy sessions since the marriage is the client. Any future individual time with Ray Klein is also understood to be collateral to the marriage and is not considered individual counseling or therapy.

I understand that no material is required for therapy or ongoing treatment. If I elect to purchase any materials I do so without influence or coercion from Ray Klein or anyone employed by Ray Klein.

If an ongoing therapeutic relationship is established, it is expected a face-to-face visit would occur. By signing this, I accept full responsibility for future face-to-face visits. Also, I understand no recording of sessions is ever permitted and is illegal in most cases without consent. I acknowledge I am not recording, in any manner, my sessions with Ray Klein.

By signing below you agree that you have read and understood the preceding information, which has also been provided verbally. You understand your rights as a client or as the client's responsible party and are consenting to treatment with Stone Bridge Counseling Center, Inc. and Ray Klein. The signed copy of this document will become part of your file at Stone Bridge. If you have any questions, please address them during our initial session.
